

URGE FREE TRADE FOR THE ISLANDS

Taft's Scheme Affords Ammunition for Democrats to Attack Dingley Schedule.

BILL NEEDS DEMOCRATIC AID

Measure Providing Philippine Imports Free of Duty is in Danger.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, November 4.—The thing that will let loose a large stream of tariff talk at the coming session of Congress will be the subject of tariff legislation for the Philippines. Secretary Taft and Governor Luke E. Wright will be on hand to argue the wisdom of free trade with the islands.

Representative Curtis, of Kansas, will again introduce his bill of last session, providing for a duty on sugar and tobacco at 35 per cent. of the Dingley schedule and all other imports free of duty. Representative Sereno Payne has prepared a bill providing that all imports from the archipelago, including sugar and tobacco, shall come in free of duty, but not to take effect until 1908, when the provision of the treaty with Spain, relating to her trade with the Philippines, shall have ceased to be operative.

The Secretary of War favors the Curtis bill, and has had the Bureau of Insular Affairs kept busy for some time gathering data and preparing arguments in advocacy of the bill. The practical unanimity with which those congressmen who accompanied Secretary Taft to the Philippines agree with him encourages the friends of legislation for the islands to believe that their measure will succeed. But the old powerful sugar and tobacco lobby will again be on hand to stiffen the marrow of the stand-patters. The administration will use its best efforts to promote the relief of the Philippine producers from the tariff burden. What will develop from the discussion and treatment of the question will furnish possibly the most interesting feature of congressional debates at the coming session.

Admission that free trade is a good thing even for the Philippines coming from a Republican administration will, of course, afford the Democrats an opportunity as good as they could wish to assail the general cussedness and sordid selfishness of the Dingley schedule and its stand-pat defenders. But the Democrats are more of a minority in the present Congress than for a good many years, and there is no telling just now what the 116 Republican majority will do. Fifty-nine of them are new men, and as they will want nice and comfortable and creditable committee assignments, it is safe to set it down that they will for the most part do what Speaker Cannon would like for them to do.

TUCKER TO SAIL ON EXPO. MISSION

tional Federal appropriation are good, and there is not the slightest doubt that many of the States will make appropriations for exhibits. Pennsylvania has already appropriated one hundred thousand dollars for the exposition, and New York has appropriated one hundred and thirty thousand. I talked with Senator Burroughs, of Michigan, to-day, and I am led to believe that State will make a handsome appropriation. Michigan is one of the five States erected from the territory which Virginia gave to the Union, and we are counting on all two being among those which will be most creditably represented at the exposition.

Regarding his mission abroad, Mr. Tucker said it was his intention to interest foreign governments in the exposition, and provide for government exhibits, but he was also most representative of business organizations in the old world capitals, and urge upon them the importance in a trade sense of being well represented at the great international show.

"Our fight in Congress will be for an appropriation for a government exhibit, in connection with the international naval rendezvous, and for an appropriation for the benefit of the exposition. I have no doubt the sentiment of Congress will be for the granting of the appropriation. The speaker is opposed, but it is our hope, and it is a reasonable one, that we will be able to influence the sentiment in Congress so wrong for it that Speaker Cannon will have to yield. I have not the slightest doubt of the success of the great enterprise."

Mr. Tucker indicated in his face and manner that his faith in the success of the project is sincere. His native enthusiasm will carry him a long way towards success.

Mr. Tucker will not let his connection with the exposition enterprise interfere with his plans to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination to the governorship in 1907.

"I shall be a candidate," he said, in answer to a question from me, "I have long had this ambition, and I shall not be content until it is gratified. I shall certainly make the attempt to win the prize, and I have information which leads me to believe I shall be successful."

Willard, Glass, Flood and Stuart, are already regarded as certain gubernatorial possibilities. Mr. Glass may not be an aspirant. He would like the office, but there is reason for saying that his mind is not made up to attempt to capture the nomination. It is believed the other gentlemen have pretty fully determined to make the race.

SEMINARY LECTURES.

Rev. S. M. Johnson to Speak On "Growth of Christianity."

A series of three lectures on "The Growth of Christianity" will be delivered in the chapel of Union Theological Seminary on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week (November 7th, 8th and 9th), by the Rev. S. M. Johnson, of Chicago.

The lectures are not technical, but popular, and will be of exceptional interest to the general public as well as to special students of the subject. They will be illustrated by a great number of stereoscopic views, which have been prepared with much toil at large cost. The lectures will begin at half past eight o'clock, and there will be no charge for admission, and the public is cordially invited to attend, but it is requested that those who propose to do so will get to the Seminary not later than 8:30 P. M., so as not to interrupt the lecturer after he has begun his lectures. In order to do this it will be necessary for those who are coming from the city to take the cars at First and Broad streets not later than 8 o'clock. Extra cars will be run from that point to the Seminary at 7:30 and 8 P. M., on the three evenings indicated.

NO NEW CASES.

Children of Mrs. Palmer, Remain Well.

There were no developments yesterday in the Fulton case of the Palmer children, whose lives were endangered by the presence of diphtheria in the house, and whose mother, a believer in divine healing, for some time refused to permit their treatment by a physician. Mrs. Palmer has now given her consent to the treatment, and if the children show any symptoms of diphtheria a physician from the Board of Health office will inoculate them with antitoxin. Dr. Oppenheimer is keeping a close watch on the case. He received a report shortly before midnight last night to the effect that the children appeared to be in good health.

All Want Pastor Simpson.

The rumor that Rev. T. McN. Simpson may leave Clay Street M. E. Church after the approaching conference is indignantly denied by leading members of his church. Mr. Simpson has done an exceptional work at this church, and the members are said to be a unit in wishing his return. Some go so far as to say that the work will be crippled with the incoming of another pastor at this time. Mr. Simpson is popular with all who know him.

TERRIFIC STORM KILLS 7 PERSONS

The Residential Section of Small Western Town is Swept By a Tornado

(By Associated Press.)

MOUNTAIN VIEW, O. T., November 4. A tornado struck Mountain View this evening, killing seven persons and injuring many others, and damaging much property. The dead: W. F. WHITE, F. W. CLARK, JENNIE JONES, MRS. W. M. HOYT and CHILD, J. S. BARCLAY, MRS. SMITH. Seriously injured: T. D. Dunn and L. W. Gray.

Many others were hurt. The schoolhouse, two churches, two livery barns, one hotel, a cotton gin and about twelve dwellings were blown away and many more houses were wrecked. The business part of the town was untouched except a few windows blown in.

caught, was slaughtered. The methods employed in the work of butchering were too revolting for description.

Sulked Like Dogs.

Before this morning's dawn the material had become exhausted and the men who had for the moment become beasts left the wrecked sections of the city, and though sullen were easily driven back before the rifles of the infantry.

A trip of investigation this evening over the Jewish quarters confirmed the stories of horrors and devastation. Some bodies mutilated, among them women and children were still unremoved from the deserted streets. The shops were closed and in the wrecked houses broken furniture was lying everywhere in heaps.

Only 120 of Mob Killed.

While it is probable that the total number of persons killed will never be known the number of wounded persons in the hospitals and ambulance houses affords some guide. The 5,677 wounded reported up to this morning were distributed as follows: In the Jewish hospitals, 2,715; in the municipal hospitals, 1,292; in the different ambulance houses, 1,670; it has been definitely ascertained that only 120 of the anti-Jewish mob were killed.

At the beginning of the massacres, the streets were filled with the bodies of the slain and saved many lives, but the police is said to have shot the students and even in some cases shot them with their own revolvers.

Guns Trained On City.

HELINGFORS, FINLAND, Nov. 4.—Three Russian battleships, a cruiser and 10,000 troops have arrived here from Revel. The warships are anchored in the harbor.

Batteries have been placed on two commanding hills outside the town, and the cannon in the Strelnoborg fortress have been turned against the city, which also lies under the guns of the warships in the harbor.

The authorities, with the assistance of the 10,000 reinforcements which have arrived here, hope to be able to control the situation. The persistence of the specialists on their impossible demands makes the position critical. Russian families are seeking shelter in the Nyhinds barracks.

"RURAL IRELAND."

The Review of Reviews, Dr. Albert Shaw's great magazine, publishes in its November number a story of great human and literary interest, giving sharply drawn pictures of "Rural Ireland" at the present time, and depicting the saving effect of the new land law.

The article itself, without a sponsor, would attract attention anywhere, but is given added interest for Virginia readers since it was written by a Virginian, Rev. Plummer F. Jones, of Arvon, who during the past summer spent considerable time in Ireland, and made a study of conditions in Ireland. The series of articles from Mr. Jones, published in The Times-Dispatch, which have so long stamped him before the Virginia public as not only a delightful writer, but a keen observer, capable of giving a faithful portrait of what he has seen. Mr. Jones took the only course of getting at the bottom of his subject. He saw the Irish peasantry in their homes and got first hand the exceedingly interesting data he uses. This, when woven, gives an added charm to the story. At the same time Mr. Jones secured numerous photographs of a most excellent character, and these are freely used in illustrating the article.

Mr. Jones is not a professional writer. He is a Protestant minister, and the greater portion of his time is given to the canons of his church at Arvon, but he is a writer of rare gifts. He turns to his pen for his recreation, and always to the pleasure of his readers. He is a former newspaper man, and was at one time a member of the staff of the Richmond Dispatch, and a graduate of the college of William and Mary and of the Union Theological Seminary, taking high honors at both institutions. He is a member of the exclusive and highly honored Phi Beta Kappa Society, an unusual badge of distinction for so young a man.

Mr. Jones has long written for leading magazines, and while he disowns the profession of writing in favor of the higher one of preaching, he readily admits that his literary work is bringing him.

comprising New York county, were asked to indicate their preference for district attorney, with the following result: William Travers Jerome, 3,334. James W. Osborn, 1,186. Clarence J. Shearn, 830. Charles A. Flannery, 106.

From the foregoing summary of the sentiment among voters canvassed, each reader may judge for himself the probable result of the election.

It was said at the general postoffice to-day that 361,000 of the alleged scurrilous cards had been held up. Postmaster Willis Cox's action in excluding the cards from the mails was based upon that section of the Federal laws which provide that no scurrilous matter shall be sent through the mails on postal cards.

When Postmaster Willis Cox was asked if there would be criminal prosecution in connection with the alleged violation of the postal laws, he replied that any further action in the case would have to be taken by the Washington authorities, to whom he had officially reported the matter.
